SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

The election is all over but the shouting, but what shouting there is and will be from now on until November 8 when the big issues on the general election ballot will be decided. Many are now shouting in glee, others are shouting in disappointment and chagrin, but everyone is talking about the surprises and predictions. It was a foregone conclusion that everyone couldn't win, but the disappointments are no less acute by this fact. Whether your favorite won or lost, you may be assured that the winners are the choice of the majority and as such should now have your support. Give them a hand and they will serve you well. The obligation under which they assume office is your guarantee of fairness and they fact they won by majorities is evidence of their fitness so forget and forgive and let's all pul together for a bigger and bette community, county and state.

Truckee may be justly proud in its participation in the fish raising program for the Truckee river. We had heard that local interests could not be couted upon to support the project. The fact that the fund was over-subscribed lends a lie to that statement and we believe that not alone in fish raising, but in any worthwhile program for the community Truckee can always be counted upon to go over the top in a big way. We may complain a lot but in the end the results are usually all that can be anticipated.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell observed their 57th wedding anniversary. We know that Truckee will join in wishing them the heartiest congratulations and best wishes. Both are fine citizens, alert to the demand for progress and always more than willing to cooperate in this progress. The finest compliment that can be paid them is the fact they abandoned all plans for a celebration with friends or relatives elsewhere to remain and cast their votes at the election Tuesday, the date of their wedding 57 years ago.

Five Are Injured As Cars Collide At Tahoe Wye; Eight In One Machine

Five out of eight persons in one car were injured last Friday in a headon collision at the Truckee-Tahoe Wye. None was seriously hurt in the mishap.

The accident occurred when cars driven by Albert Feigenbaum of San Francisco, accompanied by his wife, and Miss Eulla Brunswig of Nebraska, collided. Confused signals on the turn were blamed.

The injured were Miss Brunswig who had an injured knee; C. W. Spears, 54, badly injured right leg; Miles Brunswig, 19, punctured lung; Mrs. C. W. Spears, 44, scratched and bruised and Danny Brunswig, head injuries. All of the injured were in the Nebraska car.

Sergeant C. E. McKeen made the investigation and Dr. J. H. Bernard was called to treat the injured.

MONUMENT RAISED AT HOBART FOR OLD FAMILY TOWN

On Labor Day, September 5, between 11 and 12 a. m., the monument committee will dedicate a monument commenorating W. S. Hobart, the founder of the Hobart state Company.

This monument is to be placed in the Plaza, close to the schoolhouse at Hobart Mills and will be a memorial of the Hobart management and its employees, often called the Hobart family.

Charles H. Baldwin, a nephew of W. S. Hobart, has been the leader in designing the monument and has worked hard to get something that would be a credit to the community as well as an honor to those memories for which it was erected.

It is needless to say that all Hobart people who can, will be there for the ceremony.

..That Truckee residents are more than willing to pay their share of any worthwhile community program has been indicated in the fact that they oversubscribed the fund raised to cooperate with the San Francisco Flycasting Club in raising fish for the Truckee river.

Thug Killed In Raid On Small Mountain Store

Search Continues For Pals Of Dead Robber As Store Looting Fails

Officers throughout Northern California are continuing their search for two companions of Joseph Couri, 35, Portola laborer, shot and killed by Phil Trevithick, 55, operator of the store and service station at Fox Farm during a robbery there last week.

The three men, who, police believe, were responsible for a series of similar robberies in this district recently, drove up to the store at about 3 a. m., left their motor running and crashed through the front door of the store, seizing a cash register and other merchandise, which they no doubt hoped to take to their car and escape before an alarm was sounded.

Trevethick, who occupied an adjoining room, heard the commotion and grabbed a small calibre automatic rifle and began spraying the dark room with bullets.

Sergeant C. E. McKeen said the storeman reported he saw two men dash from the door, one of them staggering as if hit by a bullet and jump into the car. He followed them to the highway firing at the machine. When he returned to the store and turned on the light, McKeen said, Trevethick saw Couri on the floor with a bullet wound through his head, evidentally instantly killed.

No trace of the two companions of the dead man has been found. The search this week turned to the Tahoe district.

Trevethick called Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley and the latter notified Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and Coroner L. R. Jefford who went to the scene to investigate with Sergeant McKeen.

Couri was identified through the license plates on the car.

O. B. Wergeland Expires Here To Fatal Attack

Last Rites Held In Truckee For Pioneer Local Resident

Funeral services were held here Friday morning at the Laity Funeral Home for Ole B. STATE FAIR

State Fair days are here again! From September 2 to 11, the state's great family of counties combines to stage a pageant of wealth in tribute to the fabulous fertility of California's soil, the productivity and variety of her industries, and all the visible and colorful evidence that has put magic into the name of California throughout the world.

That magic was already there when the first State Fair set up booths in the gold-fever ridden port of San Francisco in 1854. Mule team and ox cart—some of them two weeks en route—hauled in the exhibits to the early fairs. With them, they brought overwhelming proof that California's borders encircled an agricultural kingdom second to none. A state that could grow 39-inch long carrots, 73-pound beets, 20-ton to an acre tomatoes, needed no mineral gold to asure its continued prosperity!

But in neither mineral gold nor the green gold of its fields has the richness of California's fields been drained by the years. Last year more gold was extracted than in any year since 1883, and in the value of their agricultural products, California's farmers led the nation in 1937 with the top-ranking sum of $654,000,000.

Spectators at the fair will find visible evidence in abundance of why this is so, but the invisible evidence that has "sold" California to the nation is worth more than a passing glance—the diligent efforts of farmers to build self-imposed marketing organizations, their successful drives to spread the home markets through mass distribution, to abolish surpluses and extend the selling season of products through nationally associated retail outlets. This is part of the invisible evidence that has gone far to multiply the state's wealth.

All roads now lead to the State Fair where that wealth, in vivid color and pageantry, is on display for California, the nation and the world.

ADS PAY DIVIDENDS

Dividends in deviled ham! A Chicago meat packing firm distributed three-ounce tins of this product to stockholders last week , not because it had more pork than prosperity in its larder, but because it felt it pays to advertise — even to security-holders who knew all about its product.

There's a moral in that for people who say, "Why advertise? Everybody knows my place and my goods!" To keep selling, keep telling!

Dividends in ham has even more in its favor. If all other members of the food industries take their ue from the Chicago firm, millions of investors will at least be assured square meals henceforth.

ANNUAL BASS RUN IS EXPECTED IN DELTA REGIONS VERY SOON

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 1.— (UP)— The annual fall invasion of striped bass into the Delta region of Northern California is expected momentarily, much to the pleasure of fishermen who like to pit their skill against game fish.

The big fish are now in San Francisco bay and have been reported as far north as Rio Vista, where the San Joaquin river meets the Sacramento. The bass are coming up the rivers to spawn and are exceedingly difficult to catch on the fall run. Most fishermen troll with plugs and minnows while others use sardines.

Legal catch is five per day and the minimum length is 12 inches.

Dove Season Opens Today

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 1.— (UP)— California dove hunters oiled up their guns today for the opening of the dove season throughout the state from September 1 to Octiber 15, inclsive.

H. R. Dunbar, chief of the license division of the department of natural resources, warned hunters that a license was required to hunt doves. The limit is 15 doves per day and 15 in possession.

Shooting is legal between 7 a. m. and sunset.

Guns are limited to three-shell capacity and repeating shotguns having larger magazines must be plugged to permit only three shells. Rifles are not permitted.

Although there are no closed districts in the state, the best hunting will be in the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Imeprial valleys.

WORK ON COLLEGE IS SLATED TO START IN JANUARY OF 1939

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 1—(UP)— Work on the new million dollar campus of the Santa Barbara State College may begin as early as January if an application for federal aid receives prompt approval, it was learned today from Dr. Walter F. Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction.

The optimistic prediction was occaioned by an appropriation of $550,000 in state funds just approved by Governor Frank Merriam and State Finance director Arlin Stockburger. The state has been trying a long time to start work on the new campus buildings on the 22-acre Ledbetter estate near the ocean.

300 ARE PRESENT AT HISTORICAL PAGEANT IN NATURAL THEATRE

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 1.— Under cloudless skies in the cooling shade of giant pine trees, the first open air pageant of the Tahoe Lake school was presented on Sunday in Tahoe's Theater of the Stars. A crowd estimated at close to 300 persons witnessed the event and thourghly enjoyed the afternoon's entertainment. Many from out of the community were there among them Mrs. Portia Moss and Mrs. Arta B. Flood of Auburn. ted here and there with kroups, many

The saucer shaped hillside was dotted here and there with groups, many of whom, although a good block from the stage setting, saw and heard clearly, the natural accoustics of the location making the spot particularly appropriate.

The entire program portrayed various stages of early California history the boys donning regalia of the first settlers and carrying unique guns and powder horns. The girls were dressed in gay red costumes of Spanish dancers, adding a note of color to the gathering.

Rt. Rev. Noel Porter, Bishop of Sacramento extended the official welcome at the opening of the program which was followed by several orchestra numbers directed by Otto Fox of Auburn.

There was a trapper chorus by the boys—the arrival of General John Sutter—raising of the Bear Flag—playing of the Star Spangled Banner by Stuart Pyle—Indian dance by the boys, led by Donnie Prusso—arrival of the Donner party near Donner Lake—portrayed by Billie Bechdolt and Dolores Pyle—arrival of the '49-ers—chorus, Song of the Miner and Forty-Niner by the high school students—chorus, California and America, accompanied by the orchestra—Spanish dances led by Leatrice Goss.

There was a solo by Betty Blossom Tidwell from Brockway, whose rendition of Indian Dawn and Indian Love Call was particularly beautiful. She was accompanied by Mrs. Irene Mason Edwards at the piano.

The pageant closed with a parade of children, hiking along the emigrant trail with horses, packs and wagons, singing on their way to the unknown destinations.

Interesting Sidelight

An interesting sidelight was the discovery among the spectators of the great-great grandchildren of Resen P. Tucker, leader of the first party which came to the rescue of the stranded Donner party in 1847. They are little Ray and Loma Sorensen of Tahoe Vista whose mother was Alice Susan Tucker, great-granddaughter of Resen Tucker and now Mrs .Andy Sorensen, wife of a local building contractor.

All credit and congratulations for the success of the affair are due Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, who arranged the program and prepared the cast.

WESTERN THRILLER IS SUPPOSED TO BE DUD BY TAHOE OFFICER

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 1— What held out a promise of a Western thriller turned out to be only another disappointment last week when Constable Harry Johanson was summoned to the vicinity of Deer Park along the Truckee-Tahoe highway. In the brush along the river bank not for from the road, fishermen found equipment belonging to a prospector. Immediately the question of the whereabouts of the owner led to some conjecture, as fear was felt he might have perished during the winter. Among the belongings was a permit made out to C. M. Andrews.

The Constable's belief is that the man secured the offer of transportation out of Tahoe and left his belongings cached until he could return for them at a later date.

WOMAN DROWNS AT AL TAHOE

The body of Lillian Garfinkle, 34, was found floating in the water Saturday near Al Tahoe. She was seen leaving Globin's in a row boat and the body was found some hours later by a resort employee. Coroner A. J. Orelli of El Dorado County investigated. Miss Garfinkle was employed by the state division of highways at Sacramento. A sister, Mrs. Goldie Stein of Los Angeles, survives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McWard of San Mateo are residing in the Boyiaredes cottage in Bettencourt Tract.

Miss Elizabeth McGlashen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Macy of San Francisco and niece of Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, local school teacher, exercised a woman's perogative several weeks ago and changed her mind. Instead of the elaborate wedding planned for September at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco, Miss McGlashen decided she preferred an elopement to Reno and so she quietly became the bride of George Lindahl. They will be at home in Palo Alto.

LAKE TAHOE-SIERRA ASSOCIATION MAKES DECLARATION OF AIMS

The Lake Tahoe Sierra Association last week adopted a promotion program designed to stimulate business throughout the region. The program was presented by R. H. Strosneider and C. F. Edwards, resort owners of the Lake Tahoe area.

The nine-point program adopted in urging support of the association follows:

1.—Obtain a lower cost for electricity for all.

2.—Bring twice as many people to the lake which means increased development.

3.—Form a closer alliance between those who contribute to this cause by patronizing those who support the association.

4.—Extend the season at Tahoe at least 30 days through consistent advertising.

5.—To prepare and erect suitable signs and billboards on roads leading to Lake Tahoe and advertise in the newspapers and other media.

6.—To prepare to route travelers by way of Lake Tahoe during the exposition in San Francisco in 1939.

7.—By carrying out this program hoping to stabilize rental values, create higher real estate and loan values.

8.—To complete a business directory of the entire lake embracing all the members and subscribers to this association.

9.—Solicit support that all may share in the increased business.

Those desiring further particulars are urged to call the Tahoe Sierra Association a Tahoe City.

TWO FIRES IN AREA IN TWO DAYS FOUGHT BY FOREST SERVICE

NEVADA CITY, Sept. 1— Forest Service crews have been called upon to battle two structural fires in rural areas recently, according to Forest Supervisor DeWitt Nelson. On August 27 residents of Yuba Camp, in Sierra County, phoned to Ranger George King at Downieville asking assistance in controlling the fire in the camp. Assistant Charles Arment, with equipment an a crew of CCC enrollees immediately were dispatched to the fire.

On the following Sunday Grouse Ridge Lookout detected a fire in the region of Laing's Crossing near Lake Spaulding which proved to be a barracks building at Camp 19. Assistant Elliot Sawyer and Patrolman Reentz and several men at the Big Bend Ranger Station kept the blaze under control. District Ranger John R. Hodgson, who spotted the fire, directed the crew at work.

The thief got the stamps, tripped the flashbulb and carried the $180 camera off with him.

Tahoe Ramblings . . .

(By SWANEE)

Slowly but surely Summer is fading and Fall approaching at Tahoe. The willows along the river and hillsides are turning yellow and flowers in the fields are withering away. Short indeed has seemed the Summer season at the lake this year.

The lake level on Monday stood at 6228.42 with 402 C.S.F. of water leaving the gates at Tahoe City.

A housewarming was tendered newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wall of Lake Forest on Saturday night. A large crowd of their friends and neighbors gathered at the Theobold residence where they are staying temporarily. Mrs. Wall was the former Miss Edna Blue of Camino, Mr. Wall, a recent resident of Placerville. The couple have bought the Cavanaugh place and will establish permanent residence at Tahoe.

The children of the high and grammar school students at Tahoe on Mon day afternoon were treated to an entertaining hour in the auditorium when the Bird Man a traveling entertainer, enlightened his audience in the ways ofthe feathered families, imitating their calls and disclosing secrets of their habits and methods of nest building. He also showed the chidren how various noises, such as the hum of mosquitos, fires, frogs croaking, et cetra were made on the radio.

Mrs. Lloyd Yeakel of Lake Forest last week went to Alameda for a dinner given as a farewell gesture for her sister, Mrs. Waldo J. Kraus of Ohio who had spent several weeks in this state visiting relatives. The affair was held at hteir fathre's home.

Miss Mary Pronzato of Bettencourt Tract is entertaining from Lompoc Miss Ruby Parker. Last week Miss Winifred Ham and Betty Albright of San Francisco were guests at the Pronzato home.

Art Sather of Auburn entertained friends over Friday at his new summer home at Homewood. Guests included Marvin K. Blackford, George S. Haward and Chester Hatch. While here they enjoyed some lively fishing expeditions which proved highly successful.

Editor's Note—In keeping with the policy of the Sierra Sun in attempting to present all views and opinions on subjects effecting the community we submit in the following an answer by H. I. Snider, president of the high school board, to a NEWS story which we published last week in the interest of the readers. We naturally reserve the right to editorialize as we see fit on the subject and the following should not, by any means, be construed as an apology to the writer or a correction for our story last week.

With reference to the Sierra Sun's August 25 article relative to the local high school tax rate for the ensuing year, it might be well to fully enlighten the local taxpayers as to how the tax rate expense of the high school district has been averaging and the need to keep the district in sound financial status. Whether the editor of the Sun, after spending the past year as president of the high school board, intentionally or unintentionally did not write all the facts is not known but the taxpayers and parents of high school students are entitled to know those facts.

The special tax levied to run the high school business the past nine years varied from 10 cents to 70 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the average for the nine years being slightly over 36.4 cents per year. The result of a special tax levied under 30 cents is a deficit in the school fund the ensuing school year, depending on the student attendance record which directly affects the state apportionment of school funds. The less the attendance the less the state apportionment, and the greater the attendance the greater the state apportionment. Under normal expenditures the special tax must be greater as the attendance becomes smaller, since it costs practically the same to teach 30 students per year as it does 50 students per year and maintain a constant standard of education.

The only reason that a small tax of 20 cents is made possible this year is by a planned use of a portion of the reserve fund which was made possible by not expending budgeted funds last year. However, if only 10 cents special tax were levied this year, the district would not have maintained a reserve fund as required by the present school code, and it would have been necessary to borrow money during the first part of 1939-40 school year, which also would not be a good business practice.

The new school code of requiring a reserve fund is designed to meet unexpected expenditures, such as happened with our student transportation costs this year. Only one bid to transport students from Floriston, Hirschdale and Boca was received and the local board had no recourse but to accept it or refuse to pay all the transportation of students from those locations. There are now 11 tuden's being transported.

The reduction of high school district assessed valuation by reason of Hobart Mills closing and the reduction in school attendance experienced the past two years, will necessitate a higher tax than 20 cents next year but it is not expected that we shall need to reach the nine-year average of 36.4 cents per $100 assessed valuation, since the standard of our school improvements and educational facilities have been considerably raised during that period and such expense will not need to be repeated under normal conditions.

However, education of our children is a social and economic necessity and we should see that it is done in an efficient and buisness-like manner. To quibble over a tax designed to maintain our social standards is the last thing Meadow Lake Union High School District residents as a whole will want to do, even if a special tax 40 cents is required as it has been many years in the past.

Given Large Vote Here

Superior Judge Raglan Tuttle was given a fine complimentary vote of confidence at Tuesday's primary and will continue to serve in his present capacity for the coming term.

PRESIDENTIAL BLESSING FAILS AS SMILE FADES

The smile that adorns the face of incumbent U.S. Senator William G. McAdoo faded as the results of the primary election on Tuesday began to come in and his Democratic rival, Sheridan Downey, Sacramento pension leader, rolled up a n impressive lead.

The main reason that pre-election betting was 2½ to 1 for McAdoo was due to the fact that he was "drafted" by President Roosevelt and carried the Executives unqualified blessing. The New Deal "purge" lost a double header Tuesday when South Carolina Democrats chose to ignore the black-balling of Ellison E. Smith and returned him to the Senate, since Democratic nomination is election in South Carolina

Ray L. Riley, another beting favorite, was beaten by Phil Bancroft for the G.O.P Senate nod and Bancroft will face the liberal Downey in November.

MINING TOWN IS REPRODUCED TO ADVERTISE SACRAMENTO CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 1. ——Construction of 'Roaring Camp', the mining town which will be featured at the Golden Empire Centennial in 1939 at Sacramento is nearing completion —in minature.

A scale model of the town, to be built in Southside Park, is being prepared for display in Sacramento store windows, at conventions and at the Golden Gate International Exposition in San Francisco Bay.

Many famous buildings of the Mother Lode have been made a part of the town, including Studebaker's blacksmith shop at Placerville, the old Chinese Joss house from Oroville, the Steven's drug store from Auburn, the home of Lola Montez from Grass Valley, the I.O.O.F. and Wells Fargo building from Mokelumne Hill.

Also, there is Mark Twain's cabin nestling under a tree near the top of Jackass Hill.

The model is being constructed to the most minute detail, with tiny wood sidewalks, streets covered with dust and gravel and lined with the ruts of wagon and stage coach wheels.

The model will be on display in a Capitol city store window next week.

IDAHO REPUBLICAN HOLDS DEMOCRATS AS RESPONSIBLE FOR LAW

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 1—Ezra Whitla of Coeur d'Alene and Idaho's Republican National Committeeman, said recently that it "probably is true" that "Idaho Republicans went into the Democratic primary and defeated Sen. James P. Pope."

"Each faction of the Democratic Party urged the Republicans to vote for their respective candidates to help them out, and if they did so, it is solely to blame an dthey canot blame the Republican Party threwith," he declared.

Senator Pope, a ardent New Dealer, was defeated by Rep. D. Worth Clark, conservative, for the party nomination on August 9.

Referring to the President's criticism of Republican participation in Democratic primaries Mr. Whitla contended that "for years the Republican Party in Idaho have insisted on a primary which could only be participated in by announced members of their own party."

"The Democratic Party is responsible for the law we have in Idaho giving all persons one ballot with all parties' candidates thereon and allowing the voter to vote whichever party he desires."

GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO IS ACCUSED OF "BUYING" VOTE

SANTA FE, N. M.,Sept.1—(UP)—The governor of New Mexico and a member of the house of representatives Monday night were named in an affidavit produced before a house investigating committee charging them with attempting to bribe a legislator.

Gov. Clyde Tingley was named in the affidavit signed by Rep. Telesforo Griego of Valencia County which implicated the executive in an attempt to "buy" Griego's vote with offers of highway and job money. Rep. Delfin Salazar of Rio Arriba county also was named in the document.

NEW FHA LOAN SYSTEM

Monthly payments of approximately $6 for each thousand dollars borrowed now will pay for a home under the new terms of the FHA insured mortgage system, it was declared at the Northern California district office of the Federal Housing Administration.

The down payment need not be more than 10 per cent of the appraised value of house and lot, under recent amendments to the Housing Act. The remaining 90 per cent, financed by an insured mortgage, is payable in monthly installments over any convenient period up to 25 years.

Under new regulations, it has been pointed out, a home valued at $5000 may be acquired with a down payment of $500. An insured mortgage for the remaining $4500 could be amortized by payments of about $27 a month.

Diplomatic doodling and international hair-splitting are still in the way, but the possibility is growing that California will hang out the "Royalty ahoy!" sign in 1939. Our spies report that local organizations have been quick to climb on the bandwagon, and that the drive to bring the King and Queen of England to the Golden Gate exposition is gathering steam. Inside word is that what started out to be nothing more than a publicity "gag" has gotten so far beyond the stunt stage that President Roosevelt may be called on to issue an official invitation in the interests of international amity—complete with gold ribbon and seals.

The key to New York's most notorious gangland slaying, the murder of racket nabob Dutch Schultz, has just turned up in San Quentin, according to confidential reports. The "key" in the person of convict Max Silverman, isn't talking—yet. But those inthe know say that when the little matter of protecting his own skin is taken care of, Silverman will have wanted words to purr in the ear of racket buster Thomas E. Dewey. Incidentally, California police are wise to the fact that several racket "kings" are on vacation now in California. The police intend to keep them that way, out of business and just resting.

Political candidates aren't the only ones having troubles these days with pension-itis. A bad case of the rash has just turned up in Los Angeles, much to the chagrin of American Legion officials. In the past week the southern metropolis has been plastered with stickers demanding $100 a month pension for veterans. Since the Legion has steered clear of that demand, it doesn't like the stickers stuck-up under tis name, especially with the national convention on tap in L. A. within the next month. Inside word is that the pension posters are just the first step in the organized effort of radical groups to keep the Legion's collective face crimson during the convention goings on.

Oldtime Movieman Tries to Save Town

'The Saving of A Ghost Town'

By United Press

HOBART MILLS

Joseph E. Lansberg, who helped D. W. Griffth produce "The Birth of a Nation," hopes to prevent Hobart Mills, long-time queen of the central Sierra lumber camps from becoming "just another ghost town."

Lansberg, president of the Los Angeles Iron & Steel Co., purchasers of the town, said he would convert it into a summer and winter resort. But if the attempt fails he will raze the whole town and close its 40 years of colorful history.

To Salvage Railroad

Mills 12 miles of railroad, sheds and other buildings will be salvaged for construction of the resort, while the 55 homes will be maintained. Families of many workers employed on the million-dollar Boca Dam on the Little Truckee River are living in Hobart Mills now.

Disposal of the railroad—especially famous old No. 5 locomotive—promises to be one of the most interesting jobs.

Old No. 5 was built by the Baldwin Locomotive Work for the Virginia & Truckee Railroad in 1875. It hauled millions in gold and silver from the Comstock. It's still in good repair here, and was retired from service only four years ago. Lansberg hopes to sell it to some museum—perhaps to Henry Ford or the Rockefeller Institute. Other rolling stock includes six locomotives and 47 flat cars.

Closed Down in 1936

Hobart Mills closed down in 1936, once boasted 2000 residents. Seven families remaining there last winter were snowbound for six weeks.

If Hobart Mills becomes a resort, however, Lansberg expects the State Highway Department to keep the road open through Truckee through the winter.

The town is located on the historic Yuba Pass Highway running to Downieville and Nevada City.

Lansberg said Hobart Mills had numerous tourist attractions.

Prosser Creek and the Little Truckee are "always full of trout," he said.

The mountains offer hiking and horseback riding in the summer and skiing in the winter. The old mill pond could be filled for ice skating.

The 12-mile railroad ran from Truckee to Hobart Mills.

If Joseph E. Lansberg, top left, can help it, Hobart Mills, Cal., which once was the queen of the Central Sierra lumber camps, won't become "just another ghost town." Lansberg, who helped D. W. Griffith produce "The Birth of a Nation," is president of a Los Angeles firm that purchased the old camp, which once boasted 2000 people. Lansberg plans to convert it into a year-around resort, will junk its mills, 12-mile railroad from Truckee, but maintain its homes. He'll sell famous old No. 5 locomotive, at bottom, which was built in 1875, hauled millions in gold and silver from the Comstock, and was used until four years ago.

G.O.P. Has Circus, Free Eats At Mid-West Rally

WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept. 1—(UP)—The Republican Party launched its 1938 congressional campaign Saturday in the hayfield of a gentleman farmer whose slogan is "Don't kick—do something about it!"

The host was Homer Capehart, 41-year old manufacturer of musical insruments. His guests included John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Rep. James W. Wadsworth, a potential 1940 presidential nominee; Sen. John G. Townsend, chairman of the Republican seatorial campaign committee; Rep. Joseph M. Martin, Jr., hear of the congresional campaign committee and 25,000 midwestern Republicans.

Under 28 colored tents the visitors listened to a series of addresses. A feast of 4500 chickens, 12,000 ears of corn, 900 watermelons, 70,000 Virginia clams and 800 gallons of coffee was served to 8500 precinct committeemen

Capehart surveyed the multitude and smiled with satisfaction.

He estimated the rally cost him $25,000.

In the center of a hayfield stood the "big top," a blue and white striped tent housing a speakers' stand and seats for several thousands. Around it were 27 smaller tents. Some contained seats. Others held hot dog and cold drink stands for those not included in Capehart's dinner invitation Five hundred negroes served dinner.

To all those who supported me as a candidate for Justice of the Peace in Township 11, Placer County, I take this means of expressing by gratitude.

You did exceedingly well under the disadvantage of my last-minute entry as a write-in candidate and although I lost the race, the results of your efforts to elect me are most gratifying.

C. W. VERNON
